Introduction - Unlocking The Massive Potential Of Your Brain

It is well known that the human mind is an incredibly powerful tool, able to multitask many activities and to perform tasks with the ease and skill of a machine - if it has been properly trained.

The human mind operates on two main levels, the conscious mind and the subconscious mind. The conscious mind is able to focus on the events and ideas which are surrounding it in its reality.

The subconscious mind performs many roles, from managing the beating of your heart to storing events and information in your memory that your conscious mind is not even aware of. One of its key functions is storing your beliefs (or inner picture) about the world and how you fit into it.

Right now, many people are just awaking to the possibility that their subconscious has a significant impact on almost every aspect of their life. Movies such as "the secret" and "what the bleep" have increased awareness of this phenomenon.

It has long been proven that your beliefs or "inner pictures" managed by your subconscious also generate your thoughts and emotions ... which in turn, generate your actions, experiences and results.

Your subconscious is a mental mechanism that is constantly striving to align our inner picture with our reality. The larger the difference between our inner picture and our reality - the harder our subconscious will work to bring them into alignment. It works automatically, naturally, effortlessly and powerfully.

In the end, life delivers your inner picture, exactly. And it does this instantly, as soon as it recognizes that a misalignment between your inner picture and your reality exists.

Unfortunately, "what you think you want" or "what you say you want" or "what you're willing to work hard for" is of no consequence. Look around. You'll find your reality is in perfect accordance with your true inner picture. This is the determining factor in all failure as well as success. And, if you're having a problem making any improvement in your life, it's because the improvement you're seeking isn't consistent with your current inner picture.

To change your actions, experiences and results (in other words to change your life) ...you must first change your inner pictures.

To make this change it's very important to understand that your conscious mind uses reasoning, intellect, experience and emotion to determine whether or not something is allowed to enter, and, change your inner picture. The subconscious mind however will accept everything, good or bad, that you say to it as fact. Getting the information into your subconscious mind, is where the real difficulty lies.

If you have ever used affirmations you'll know that they most certainly work. You'll also know that they take a lot of energy, focus and determination. In fact, the amount of energy to make them work is directly proportional to the size of the 'misalignment' between your current inner picture and the new one you are trying to implant on your subconscious.

For instance; if you're earning $1000 per week and you state an affirmation that you are earning $10,000 per week, your conscious mind will fight very hard NOT to let that into your subconscious mind. That's because the misalignment between your inner picture and reality is so large.

If, however, we could bypass your conscious mind and get straight to the subconscious, then the amount of effort required to produce change would be significantly reduced and the results greatly increased. Your subconscious would immediately begin to bring your inner picture into alignment with your new reality. Your life would begin to change so that it aligns to your new inner picture, whatever that is.

The secret to significantly reduce the amount of effort to change your inner picture, is to completely bypass the logic and reasoning of the conscious mind and go straight to the subconscious.

Imagine implanting your subconscious with a picture of your great wealth. Your subconscious instantly recognizes a misalignment between your reality and your inner picture. It immediately goes about resolving the misalignment. All of sudden an opportunity appears that you grab and your wealth begins to take a significantly leap forward!

So how can you gain access to your subconscious mind, without passing through your conscious mind? Subliminal messaging.....

Using subliminal messaging to influence a person's behavior is achieved by incorporating messages or images which are not apparent to the conscious mind, thus bypassing your conscious mind!

For example; Subliminal messages incorporated into computer programs for use during daily occupations, particularly while at work, and those that are buried inside a musical track and then covered by the music, are the two techniques most commonly employed by field researchers.

The effectiveness of subliminal messaging has been speculated for many decades. The hoax perpetuated by James Vicary in 1957 stating that by using a tachistoscope to project the words “Hungry? Eat popcorn” and “Drink Coca Cola” for 1/3000 of a second at regular intervals throughout the course of a movie increased Coke and popcorn sales exponentially.

The possible ramifications of this caused a number of advertisers to choose to hop on the bandwagon and embark on their own subliminal campaign!

This sparked a conspiracy theory speculating on the ability of the government to control the people of the United States through subliminal messaging and the process was banned from all advertisements.

While Vicary later confessed that his claims were a hoax the questions that his experiments raised refused to die.

How Can Subliminal Messaging Change Your Life?

The possibility of using the simple technique of flashing a sound or an image into a person’s mind for a small fraction of a second at regular intervals to effect a tremendous change in their behavior has proven to be one that science could not ignore; however, rather than using it to market products scientists have been studying the ability of subliminal messaging to correct negative behavior.

There are many who believe that success in losing weight, stopping smoking, quitting a drug, increasing wealth, improving relationships, raising your self confidence or making a difficult decision lies NOT in the ability to convince the “conscious” mind but in the ability to convince the “subconscious”.

Therefore, if subliminal messaging is used to convince the subconscious mind that it doesn’t want to participate in a behavior, or not take an action - - the conscious mind will comply. Conversely, the conscious mind will also comply if the subconscious mind does want to participate in a behavior, or take an action, and therefore, you will comply.

As an example; if your parents always told you that you have to study, find a good job, work hard 'till your retirement and then enjoy the benefits of your labors, then that will be one of your beliefs or inner pictures. Your subconscious will work to make sure that your conscious mind takes the actions and behaviors to make that belief a reality, no matter what you say or tell yourself at a conscious level.

Think about this one: What if your parents told you that money can't bring you happiness and that is now one of your inner pictures. Is your subconscious mind working right now to tell your conscious mind to take actions to make you happy instead of rich? The reality is that you can have both but your subconscious is not allowing you to achieve it because it does not align to your inner picture of the world and where you fit into it.

Some would say these techniques have not been proven; and this 'mind influencing' technique is still an experimental therapy. However the compelling evidence and (in some cases) miraculous results received by thousands of people who've used subliminal messages suggests it can be extremely effective.

Subliminal messaging can be used to achieve ANYTHING you desire in life -- money, power, weight loss, happiness, sex, and success in every avenue of endeavor.

After all, if you could improve the power, speed and ability of your mind... how much of a difference that would make to your life, your career, your relationships... and the world around you?

Unlocking Deeply Hidden Brain Powers with Subliminal Messages...

Many researches over the last 20 years have developed their own strategies for delivering successful subliminal messages.

Simply: subliminal messaging works by influencing the thoughts, opinions and behaviors of the "subconscious" mind, which in turn actively controls the thoughts, opinions and behaviors of your "conscious" mind, and in turn, your actions.

Below are a set of guidelines intended to help the user get the most influence they can from the fraction of a second sounds and images they see and hear:

- Subliminal messages are like affirmations in that they are also statements of the behaviors you would like to have. And they will also be formatted the same way: they will be personal, positive and in the present tense.

Since the subconscious mind can only operate in the present (hence the reason that hypnosis patients “re-live” events that are pulled from their subconscious mind while they are under the influence of hypnosis) subliminal messages must also be set in the present tense.

For example;

“I am in the relationship of my dreams”

“I have unstoppable confidence now”

“I easily attract money and wealth”

“My life is filled with joy”

“Positive people are drawn to me”

...are all examples of personal, positive and present tense affirmations.

- Subliminal messages are most powerful when your “conscious” mind doesn’t actually register them. This allows the messages to easily filter through to your “subconscious” mind without being rejected by your critical conscious mind.

You will find that because these messages are “bypassing” your conscious mind, powerful, positive changes will happen for you virtually automatically.

- You will find results come faster with an open mind. The mind can be as a steel trap, retaining an opinion in the face of all reason. ‘Opening your mind’ to receive a positive outcome will ensure success as early as possible.

Having said this, many skeptics who have tried subliminal messaging have reported some tremendous and surprising results...

How To Experience Super-Fast Results With Subliminal Messaging:

There are two main types of subliminal messages: auditory and visual.

Auditory (or audio) messages try to sneak by the critical mind by being played at frequencies that we can't consciously hear. My results have been mixed and because background noises can have a huge negative influence, I tend not to use subliminal auditory messages on their own.

Visual subliminal messages are just what they sound like. These messages are going to be flashed in front of your eyes for a split second. It's long enough for your subconscious to register the message, but too quick for you to consciously read it. Powerful and positive subliminal "affirmations" now flood your subconscious mind - without your conscious mind being able to filter them out.

There are many audio CDs and visual software programs available to help you accomplish this, however...

The most effective way to use subliminal messaging combines both visual and auditory commands. Together, this is a powerful combination.

You'll see plenty of proof here of the success others are having using this combined method.

The Success Accelerator video series uses a powerful combination of both visual and auditory messages to bypass your conscious mind. It has been professionally produced to the highest standards and has received fabulous customer feedback. It's the only subliminal messaging program that I'm prepared to put my name to. You can find out more about it here.

How Long Does it Take to See the Results of Subliminal Messaging?

Today's fast paced society does not leave much room for patience in the average consumer. They want results and they want them now. Waiting is not an option.

This applies to various forms of therapy as well. From the moment a patient enters the room until the first words leave the doctor's mouth the first thought in their mind is almost always, "How long is this going to take?"

Patients undergoing clinical trials to discover the effects of subliminal messaging are no different from any other consumer. They want results and they want them now!

The good news is that the Subliminal Messaging mind technique is unique in that it involves very little effort on your part and creates the mindset you desire quickly.

Trials which showed successful results of subliminal messaging showed them almost immediately. A particular study group would favor the product that was subliminally introduced to them as soon as the trial was completed.

The success of these trials has prompted leading researches into continually improving the effectiveness of this powerful mind technique.

One such company has been leading the way with over 18 years of extensive research, testing and development in the field of subliminal mind techniques.

After helping many hundreds, if not thousands of people to develop the belief system, successful mindset and dream life they desire through the power of their subliminal "videos", they have finally released their very successful Subliminal Video Series to the general public, named "The Success Accelerator Video Series".
